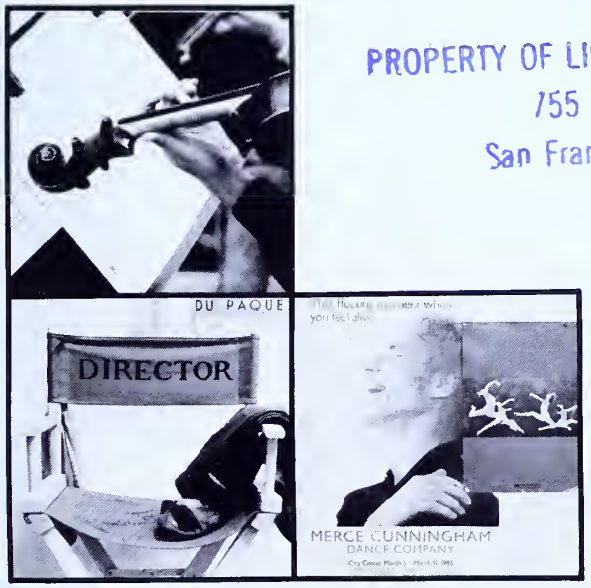
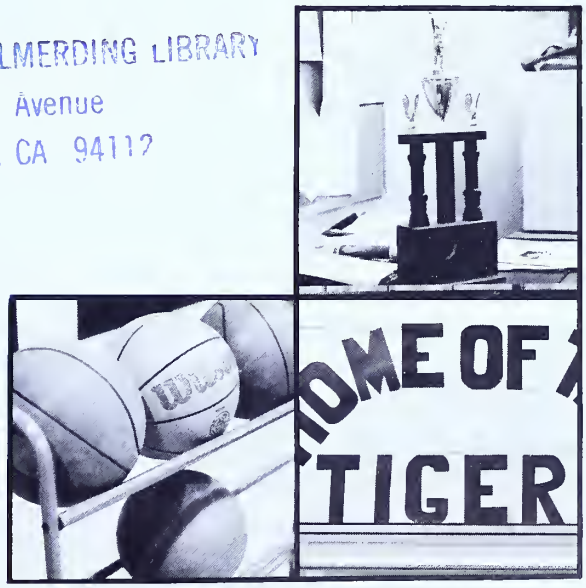
Lick-Wilmerding High School 1991

PROPERTY OF LICK-WILMERDING LIBRARY
755 Ocean Avenue
San Francisco, CA 94112





I pay a very personal tribute to the Class of 1991. It consists of both congratulations and a heartfelt thank you. You were sophomores when I arrived, and we have navigated some bumpy as well as a lot of smooth terrain together. In the hard times of institutional change, I have appreciated your intelligence, your fairness and your good will. In the easier times I have been buoyed by your openness, your sincerity and your warmth. You have made a special mark on Lick-Wilmerding. Those of us who remain will not forget you and I want you to know that you have also made a profound impression on me. I hope that you will be blessed with equally satisfying relationships in your upcoming journeys.

The Varsity Boys Soccer Team made a run at the playoffs, missing the sixth spot by one point. The young team, led by senior captains Andrew Clark and Phil Gray, had a lot of potential but little experience. The Tigers were also plagued by the reputation for being the most accident-prone team in the league: Mike Harleman broke his leg, Jason Felch broke his ankle, Eric Wong tore a ligament in his knee, Adam Turner sprained his ankle, and Yakuh Askew broke his nose after running into a tree during a game. With a strong group of returning players, backed by Ned Segal in goal, the Tigers should have a promising season in 1991.

The Lady Tigers clinched a 21-8 overall record during this ever-exciting year of volleyball. Never before has such a team effort been pushed and the spirit never died. This group of twelve girls worked hard through double sessions, running and rolling after balls with such energy and enthusiasm. The Tigers finished in second place overall, but enjoyed and savored their win over University in the playoffs. This was a win that told them "They could do it!" My hat goes off to this team that put so much heart into their season and learned to never say die!

The Cross Country Team was, for the second year in a row, the crown jewel of the Fall Sports Program. Both the Boys' and Girls' teams were repeating league champions, going on to the North Coast Sectionals, which they won last year but didn't have as much luck with this time around. Most Valuable Runners and Team Captains Emma Chesney and Jonathan Shuman led their teams in their remarkable seasons: the girls ended with a 9-1 league record, while the boys were undefeated.

Nineteen girls participated on the Junior Varsity and Varsity Tennis Teams. The girls' overall record was four wins and five losses and three girls were able to participate in the League Tennis Tournament: Mihoko Ito, Rachel Samuels, and Amy Bloom. Some good memories: Snickers, oranges, Huey Lewis, Virginia Slims, and beating Convent of the Sacred Heart.

The Varsity Boys' Basketball Team had a tough season. The young team, led by captain and leading scorer Phil Gray, suffered from a lack of experience and unpredictability. This team was the Jeckell and Hyde of the league, always playing to the level of competition, be it up or down. Everyone was scared of this team because they never knew what to expect. Lick proved to be a formidable opponent, losing to the top three teams by no more than nine points and rounding out their season with a 7-8 record. With eleven players expected to return, the Tigers should be a force to reckon with next year.

So no one thought that we would be any good this year! Well, that was proved wrong as the Tigers held a 19-4 overall record. Senior leadership, scoring, and defense added much to this team, but the key was the picturing . . . the visualizing that "I am a winner" and never doubting it. Heartbreaking losses were there, but the fun and games were remembered (Los Angeles trip) and the numerous wins we had were well-earned and deserved. "Cheers" to a group of girls that gave 110% everyday, who never complained, loved basketball, but hated to run!

The 1990 Girls Soccer season was an exciting and joyous time. The girls finished 5-5, an exceptional record that reflects the determination and winning mentality of the team. From diving fully-clothed into the pool at Athenian to drenching Mike after the last game, the season was filled with hard work and good fun. The team is young and promising and should give other teams in the league a run for their money.

1990 BCL CHAMPIONS

The 1990 Boys Volleyball Team captured the title on a late afternoon in May. This win capped off their best season ever, giving the team a 16-3 overall record. The squad was led by eight seniors who offered skill, experience, and team-motivation to bring everyone together as a solid unit. Team camaraderie was the essence of the Tigers success . . . and they had much to be proud of. Being undefeated on the court in league (13-0) and being undefeated in spirit helped them to become overall winners and to be chosen as the "Team of the Month" in Volleyball Monthly!

The 1990 Swim Team had a great year, strongly competing for the championships in all divisions. The Varsity Boys, led by senior captains Hovey Clark and Cass Castleton, finished the regular season in third place. However, Hovey, the team MVP, got hepatitis, killing the team's chances at the BAC Championship meet. The Girls' Varsity, although a small group, had many strong individual performances, yet the numbers beat them in the end- three swimmers can't win a championship!

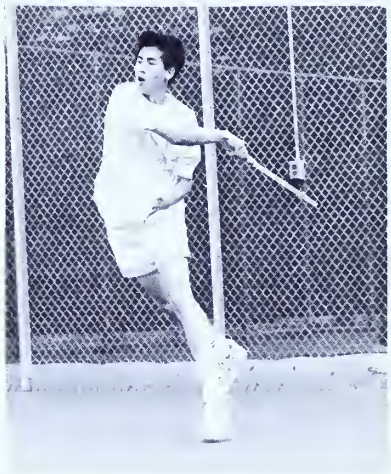
Michael Cohen, Ian Bettinger, Nolan Lew, Ted Elliot, Coach Don Negri, Gregory Murphy, Aaron Calander, Phil Gray, Alexander Lee, Michael Harleman



The Boys Tennis Team had a rather tough year, failing to reach the .500% goal the team set for itself. In spite of having some of the best looking tennis shirts in the conference and a hefty supply of high-tech rackets, there were just too many powerhouse teams for Lick to make much of a dent. Yet, throughout the season, the team retained a positive attitude and an eye towards 1991, when five of the starting seven players are expected to return, augmented by a strong bumper crop of Freshmen players.

Led by Oben Quortrup's pitching and Kurt Houtkooper's hitting, the Tigers were able to compile a record of 9-3 in league. In the play-offs, however, Lick lost to University 4-3. Next season's team has a lot of talent and will be making an exciting trip to the "Baseball Ballpark" in Florida. Now that Lick has a new batting cage, the Tigers look forward to seeing a lot of base hits in the future.

The 1990 Badminton Team ended their season in third place. The team was led by a strong group of seniors - Lisa Lee in girls' doubles with only one loss and Eric Schmidt and Jason Goldberg who together dominated the boys' singles. Upcoming stars include Jennie Sue, who showed remarkable improvement throughout the season in mixed doubles and the strong pair of Nadine Chin and Ilana Wong, who will prove to be a formidable doubles combination. The continuing effort of the junior and sophomore veteran members of the team enabled us to begin and end strongly and will insure success of the LW Badminton Team in the 1991 season!

Before I say my final farewell, I'd like to thank all the little people who made my time at Lick, & life in general, more amusing :
Mom & Dad -Thanx for everything. Kiss me & smile for me. I love you both, & the cats, very much.
Valerie -LA was an experience. You're everything a big sister should be…what a role model!
Mary -So…what do you want? How's Tim? I'm bored! Can I borrow something? Thanx Mom.
Lilian -My other sis. Thanx for always being there for me. TRP lives on! TCCIC, LYLAS, RMA.
Julia & Emma - Welcome to the world of Motley fking Crue!! Everybody say get off your ass & jam! I luv ya'll & Tommy Lee.
Vicky -I'm glad we finally found each other after 11 years. Have fun with Mario. You'd better invite me to the wedding. Five Man Acoustical Jam!
Kelly -EMN was fresh (In more ways than one!) Thanx for Sister Strange (Sean & Tommy), Mister Hyde (Scott), Craig (don't say no), Joel (#1), Tommy, Sebastian Bob, Russ, Woody, Jeff, Elvis, Jim, Steve, Rick, & all the guys yet to come. Pocket Trout! Novato Lyons at 3am. Girl, you need sex.
Rob -Thanx for tolerating me & my love for Taime. You're one in a million, you're a shooting star.
Boo & the VB team - WE BEAT UHS !!!!!!!!!!!
Fawn A -Yo Slick, it was one helluva summer. We're bonded forever! Thanx for listening to me bitch, for entertaining me, & for corrupting me (or was it me that corrupted you?). You'd better visit me often in LA. 'We can do anything we want…we're college students!' (But haven't we done anything we've wanted to all along?) I love you BAMBI (or was that 'Bam Me'?). Now we're fully even, babe!

SOME PROFOUND QUOTATIONAL CLICHES

JEREMY RASSEN

Bodily exercise profiteth little · In all important respects, the man who has nothing but his physical power to sell has nothing to sell which is worth anyone's money to buy · You can't unscramble scrambled eggs · Continual dripping wears away a stone · It is worse than a crime: it is a blunder · He that has much to do will do some things wrong · Better to trip with the feet than with the tongue · Man is the only animal that can be bored · One can be bored until boredom becomes the most sublime of all emotions · He refuseth the bribe but putteth forth his hand · The budget is a mythical bean bag. Congress votes mythical beans into it and then tries to reach in and pull real beans out · The perfect bureaucrat everywhere is the man who manages to make no decisions and escape all responsibility · Children have never been very good at listening to their elders but they have never failed to imitate them · Three green meese flew over the barn · A man does not know what he is saying unless he knows what he is not saying · Books that have become classics—books that have had their day and now get more praise than persual—always remind me of retired colonels who, having reached their age limit, find themselves retired on half pay · In black comedy, you murder your grandmother by shoving her off a high cliff in a wheelchair; in sick comedy, you do precisely the same, but she is already dying of cancer, and you know it · Much unhappiness has come into this world because of bewilderment and things left unsaid · In dealing with the Communists, remember that in their mind what is secret is serious, and what is public is merely propaganda · Man loves company even if that of a small burning candle · The dogs bark, but the caravan moves on · He that falls by himself never cries · How do you clutch a back full of crickets from hell? · Compliments cost nothing, yet many pay dear for them · Much compliance, much craft · Everyone knows that in most people's estimation, to do anything coolly is to do it genteelly · The peculiar thing of the bore is that he (or she) is the last to find himself (or herself) out · We are so accustomed to disguise ourselves to others, that in the end we become disguised to ourselves · Talking about oneself can also be a means to conceal oneself · Oh, love is real enough; you will find it someday, but it has one archenemy—life · We forget because we must and not because we will · Goodbyes breed a sort of distaste for whomever you say good-bye to; this hurts, you feel, this must not happen again · There never were, since the creation of the world, two cases exactly parallel · A man should always consider how much he has more than he wants, and how much more unhappy he might be than he is · Every ruler is harsh whose rule is new · To smell, though well, is to stink ·

Ode to Bass

The rippling waves of sound pierce my ears,
my soul.
It is pronounced,
then reverberated from this body,
back to its source of origin,
the drum,
as if it were a language
between us.
It speaks to me in the form of a low rumble as if made by a stampede of panic-stricken buffalo.
It is pure power,
trampling everything in its path.

I know it, recognize it from the times of my ancestors,
whose lives depended upon it,
who caressed it with the same passion
they caressed their lives.
For they knew it was the basis of their survival.
It tells me stories, of lost warriors found by its beckon.
Of hunts and catches,
of celebrations and dances,
and of war and the casualties
that tag along with it, like a younger sibling.

It tells me how its majestic voice was once heard through the jungles and forests of Africa and North America the way the great whales' songs could, at one time be heard from ocean to ocean,
and then how it faded into the background, into nothingness, into percussion
as time progressed.

It sighs, "I was once revolved around and now I'm background,
How times have changed, my child,
how times have changed."

Its story saddens me.
Yet when its feelings roar through me
they excite me,
my senses
My imagination.

I can understand it--
Then I find myself losing touch with it, falling in a haze
it preoccupies me,
bombardes me,
forces me,
coxes me,

Dance, it whispers, dance.
It seizes me
then gently sways me, leading my movements teaching me its rhythms and beats making me perform predictably,
on time,
with time.

I have found it is a combination of texture and color.
VIVID!
Vivid as a daydream that releases me
and carries me away.
Bass.

Mushy Stuff

I love you Ima and Aba, thank you for being the best parents in the world. I only hope that some day I will be half as great you are. Love your only son, Ori Katz.

Dana, I love you too, don't forget that I'm older, taller, and capable of beating you up. Keep your good sense of humor. Your brother loves you, even though I know that I really get on your nerves.

Phil, Terry, Steve, Justin, Alexi, Gabe, Nick, Jason Felch, Talia, Dayle and Ayako, thanks for being the best friends I could ever hope for. Phil, thanks for teaching me humility, how to cap, how to fight, how to kiss up, and how to get away with all of the above. Justin, I know we have had our differences, but if you ever get in trouble or need my help, give me a call. Ayako, thanks for being the greatest friend, and being shorter than me. Thanks Steve for taking my caps, and being a bud. Jason, thank you for being a friend, and for providing me with a shoulder to cry on. Dayle, thanks for falafel lunch, and being my buddy. Talia, thanks for being the voice of reason in my life. Terry, thanks for knowing what's up. /I love you all.

I can do all things
Through Christ who gives me strength
But sometimes I wonder what He can do through me
No glory on my own
Yet in my weakness He is there to let me know...

His strength is perfect when our strength is gone He'll carry us when we can't carry on Raised in His power the weak become strong
His strength is perfect, His strength is perfect

TERENCE, THIS IS STUPID STUFF

"Terence, this is stupid stuff:
You eat your victuals fast enough;
There can't be much amiss, 'tis clear,
To see the rate you drink your beer.
But oh, good Lord, the verse you make,
It gives a chap the belly-ache.
The cow, the old cow, she is dead;
It sleeps well the horned head:
We poor lads, 'tis our turn now
To hear such tunes as killed the cow.
Pretty friendship 'tis to rhyme
Your friends to death before their time
Moping melancholy mad:
Come, pipe a tune to dance to, lad."

Why, if 'tis dancing you would be,
There's brisker pipes than poetry.
Say, for what were hop-yards meant,
Or why was Burton built on Trent?
